The Moment That Inspired It All

leave your mark somewhere that remembers!

The Gap We're Closing

Opportunity

We're moving fast. And forgetting faster.

We forget where we've been.

Youth are always exploring. But the memories? They rarely stick.

Spaces no longer stick.

Cafés, bookstores, and public spaces struggle to build lasting emotional connection.

Old loyalty feels empty

Traditional rewards don't build connection. they miss the emotional layer that drives loyalty.

People crave meaning, not just movement.

The opportunity isn't just in tracking where people go, it's in helping them feel why it mattered.

Investigate

Industry Data

The data proves it: youth want experience, not ads.

72%

Gen Z prefer spending money on experiences, not things (Eventbrite, 2019)

58%

Mobile users discover new places through exploration, not ads (Think with Google, 2021)

60%

Users say eco-friendliness affects their brand loyalty (Forrester, 2022)

Who We're Building For

Target Audience

Youth & Young Adults (Ages 16–30)

Who love real-world experiences more than things and enjoy discovering new places.

Cafés & Restaurants

60% of small businesses say retention is their biggest challenge – Forbes, 2022

City Spaces & Local Spots

Public spaces, galleries, and small venues want people to return, interact, and connect.

The Concept in Action

Solution Concept

The New Café Wall, Sticky notes go digital. And personal.

Skratchly is a mobile app that helps youth and young adults explore and connect with real places in a more meaningful way by gamifying movement into a personal scratch map. As users visit new locations, they unlock digital walls to drop memories like notes and reflections, only accessible again when they return. Unlike map apps, trackers, or loyalty programs, Skratchly creates a living record of discovery, blending storytelling with rewards through real-world check-ins.

How It All Comes Together

Core Features

Automatic Scratch Map

The app builds a personal scratch map as users physically move through real-world locations.

Digital Walls (Memory Activation)

Each revealed location has a digital interactive wall visible only when users check in physically.

Experience-Based Rewards

Unlock exclusive coupons and offers from partner cafés through real visits.

How We Communicate Value

Messaging Strategy

The New Café Wall, Sticky notes go digital. And personal.

Change-Based

We're not just solving a "problem" we're proposing a new way of engaging with the real world. Most apps keep you stuck in passive scrolling. Skratchly gets you moving, noticing, and remembering the world around you.

Differentiator-Based

We're not building a social media app. Not a loyalty app. Not a journaling app. Not a map app. We're blending all of those into something that feels fresh. combining exploration, memory, and real-world rewards, all tied to the places you physically visit.
